Children's Specialty Behavioral Health Provider Directory

How to Use the Digital B – UFC Specialty Provider Directory

The following directory is being made available for providers to support in identifying specialty services and programs that are open to receiving external referrals. The directory contains a list of AHCCCS covered services that can be utilized by Banner – University Family Care (B – UFC) ACC members.

The directory includes contacts, AHCCCS covered services, program descriptions and referral details to support throughout the Child and Family Team (CFT) process. Areas within the CFT that can benefit the member when community based AHCCCS covered services are explored include: Crisis Stabilization, Service Plan development, Initial and Ongoing Crisis Planning, and support for unique populations.

Clickable Directory Feature

AHCCCS covered services are available by commonly utilized services types. Each service type has a breakdown of counties that serve B – UFC members. Providers that offer the identified AHCCCS covered service have an imbedded link. Clicking on the provider agency will take you to the program descriptor and referral contact. This is also available for each provider listed in the table of contents.

The directory will be updated throughout the year to reflect changes that are provided to B – UFC. For more information and additional resources, please see the B – UFC Child & Family Support Page:

Crisis intervention services are provided in a variety of settings or over the telephone. These intensive and time limited services may include screening, (i.e. triage and arranging for the provision of additional crisis services) counseling to stabilize the situation, medication stabilization and monitoring, observation and/or follow-up to ensure stabilization, and/or other therapeutic and supportive services to prevent, reduce or eliminate a crisis situation.

Behavior Analysis: Ages 0-6. BA therapy is a proven treatment for children diagnosed with autism. Studies support its effectiveness more than any other therapy. BA works because it targets child behaviors and developmental skills, making it a program uniquely designed for children. A BA therapist analyzes why behaviors occur and what skills can be taught to improve a child's quality of life. The therapist evaluates the purpose a child's behavior is serving. They then teach helpful, new behaviors. Through BA therapy, children will learn effective ways to communicate with others. By working with our compassionate and experienced therapists, children begin to develop positive behavior changes.

MMWIA (Phoenix & Tucson): Services focus on the support needed to keep children in their community as well as return children from formal settings such as hospitals, residential treatment centers, or detention settings back into their local communities. MMWIA supports CFTs in developing and executing creative plans to support the community placement and home settings of children with complex needs. Our support is community based; we work in family homes, schools, local community centers, and other places most suited to the child and family. Our services are designed to be available when needed. Support availability includes evening and weekend hours. Transportation is also provided. CFSS works with children, families and those who are important in their lives to create and implement plans that build off strengths to meet needs.

TAY/MMWIA (Transition Age Youth/ / Meet Me Where I AM): Services focus on the 16 through 18-year-old population with complex needs. Youth receiving services may be at risk for or have recently returned from out of home placement, detention, or may be in foster care. TAY MMWIA supports youth and their families with living at home and in their communities while preparing for adulthood. TAY MMWIA services partner with youth, their families, and CFT members to identify goals around transition to adulthood and works closely with other providers and community resources to help achieve identified goals. Partnerships are created with comprehensive children's providers, SMI and GMH/SU clinics to promote collaboration between all stakeholders as youth transition from the children's system to adulthood and adult services. TAY MMWIA supports early planning within the CFT around transition needs for identifying formal services, living environments, family connection, community connection, and other resources. TAY MMWIA is designed to be flexible, serving youth when, where, and how they need it. Project Connections: MMWIA service with an emphasis on permanency for children dually enrolled in the DCS and Behavioral Health systems. Interventions emphasize a child's connections to family and other supportive long-term relationships and by developing their skills across domains. The purpose of this project is to increase experiential forms of permanency for youth whose sense of normalcy has been disrupted by the multiple changes in care givers, community settings, and routines. All service delivery is aimed at promoting resiliency and wellness through a child and family's connection to people, places, and things.

Family and Communities Team (FACT) (Phoenix & Tucson): Program emphasis promotes stabilization in a community setting for young people who are transitioning out of acute care hospitalizations and residential treatment centers. The Family and Communities Team's mission is to promote youth, caregiver, and community members' resiliency through the transition into a less restrictive environment. All service delivery targets skill development and emotional regulation of young people while strengthening their caregivers, community members, and home environments to prevent further restrictive out-of-home and out-of-community care.

Relationship Based Autism Center: Building on a young person's existing strengths and connections, The Relationship-Based Autism Center joins with the family and young person on the Autism Spectrum to learn behavioral strategies and improve effective communication. Social thinking, behavior analytics, and counseling techniques are part of the dynamic support interventions provided to teach skills, decrease maladaptive behaviors, and enhance positive connection within the family. The Relationship Based Autism Center treatment process works in three phases: engagement, skill development, and skill generalization. The support and services provided incorporate family counseling, individual counseling, social skills therapy, educational trainings, and consultation to decrease challenging behaviors and build functional skills in communication, social, and executive functioning. With the goal of helping drive positive behavior change, therapists may communicate in picture type talk and use visual supports to construct a frame of reference to support a young person and family in developing and enhancing skills. Positive change for children on the Autism Spectrum develops through healthy connections with people and cherished objects. Collaborating with families, educators, community members, and other professionals to explore Autism and young people's needs will build a foundation of acceptance and success for children and adolescents on the spectrum and their families.

Person Centered Assessment (Tucson): We offer an individualized assessment process called a Person-Centered Assessment. The Assessment encourages stabilization, promotes skill acquisition, and is uniquely designed for complex needs. The PAT Team works with the Child and Family Team in the most natural setting, with respect to the family culture, to build a plan centered on skill acquisition through a trauma informed perspective. The PAT team systematically gathers information on the identified behavioral need, while incorporating information on the child/family history, strengths and preferences, in order to inform ongoing service planning. Support services are available to partner with the ongoing team to generalize skill sets and support Caregivers in utilizing recommendations.

Community Bridges (CBI)

<https://communitybridgesaz.org/>

At Community Bridges, Inc. (CBI), we use a holistic—or integrated—approach to addiction and behavioral treatment, taking each person’s unique traits and challenges into account to design a treatment plan. Using a combination of education, therapy, housing, medications, inspiration, hope and other supportive services, our solutions are never one-size-fits-all. People are unique and so should be their treatment plan while in recovery.

CBI’s passionate and dedicated team of medical and behavioral health professionals share a common mission to maintain the dignity of human life. We can’t help but be agents of positive change in our communities.

Many of our employees have been in your shoes, so we know exactly what it takes to recover from substance use issues, from mental illness, and from feelings of despair. Most importantly, we know what it takes to thrive in recovery. At CBI, we know recovery is possible!

Medication Assisted Treatment (MAT): CBI uses best practices to help adolescents, ages 15+, with a physical dependence on opioids—prescription pain medications, fentanyl, heroin, and others—recover. We developed our Medication Assisted Treatment (MAT) program as a “whole patient approach” to substance use disorder, as described by the National Institute on Drug Abuse. This research-based treatment model takes place with intensive outpatient medical observation for optimum chances of recovery.

Treatments include a multi-disciplinary approach with medication, counseling and behavioral therapies that treat the whole person. We monitor patients’ mental and physical health, while integrating therapy and peer services.

CBI’s Integrated Therapy for Recovery from Substance use disorder:

1. Medical detoxification with evaluation, consultation, and MAT

2. Behavioral therapies for individuals, families, and groups
3. Education from peers on life skills, relapse prevention techniques and more
4. Support services such as coordination of care with multiple providers and continuing care

MAT protocols are directed by licensed medical practitioners and supported by a clinical team of registered nurses, behavioral health specialists, peer support specialists, and transition coordinators.

Psychiatric Services: CBI offers psychiatric services for people with general mental health needs in an outpatient environment. Using what we call a Patient-Centered Medical Care model, we promote an open partnership between practitioners, patients, and their families. We treat an individual's mental health using an integrated approach because we know mental well-being goes hand in hand with physical well-being and recovery.

CBI's psychiatrists focus on the diagnosis and treatment of mental, emotional, and behavioral health. A variety of treatments are used, including psychotherapy, medication, and psycho-social interventions to build a unique treatment plan for each individual.

CBI coordinates patient care and treatment plans with other specialists to ensure a patient's physical and mental health care needs are coordinated. And, with support from peers with shared experiences, patients find a new purpose through our one-on-one case management in a setting that stresses the importance of healthy support systems.

Our programs can be an alternative to residential care and are an affordable option for those needing specialized care for disordered eating issues. We offer evening programming for adults and after-school programming for teens.

Trauma Recovery Program: When the word trauma is mentioned we most often think about physical abuse, sexual abuse or even PTSD. Did you know that there are many forms of trauma that often go untreated? Some of these forms of untreated trauma are a result of emotional abuse, experiencing an accident or witnessing a traumatic event. It can be a result of threats, bullying, and intimidation experienced as a child. Trauma can also be a result of living in a highly stressful family and learning how to cope under very difficult circumstances.

Teen Program: Today's teens face many challenges and an alarming number of teens are experiencing some form of a mental health crisis or use maladaptive coping strategies to handle these crises. Incidents of anxiety and depression are at epidemic levels. Eating disorders are also on the rise among teens along with co-occurring issues like body dysmorphia and obesity. Early detection and treatment are key in helping teens recovery from these issues and help stop the development of long-term consequences. Our programs offer solutions that teens can use in their daily lives to heal and support them in the recovery process.

We service the General Mental Health Community in Maricopa, Pima, Pinal and Gila Counties from the age of 2 to 65+.

When a Child or Adolescent comes into our care, we work very hard to provide support and consideration to the whole family unit. We ensure a multi-step evaluation of not only the identified child but of the entire family and community system, recognizing that each person involved is an integral part of the child's or adolescent's healing, growth and development. Some of our focus specialties are:

- Reactive Attachment Disorder (RAD)
- Oppositional Defiant Disorder (ODD)
- Anxiety
- Depression
- Learning Disorders
- Autism Spectrum Disorder
- Conduct Disorders
- Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD)

Family System Based Assessments: Our assessment is comprehensive, sometimes requiring multiple steps, meaning we are not only assessing the identified client but also the entire family and community system, recognizing that each is an integral component of the individual's healing, growth and development.

Individualized Intensive Outpatient (I-IOP): These One-to-One intensive services are provided in the person's environment. Our work with clients provides the direct application of skills in the areas that are causing them distress. Our goal is to positively reduce substance use, self-harming behaviors, crisis utilization and hospitalization. Beginning with a consultation to assess the need for services, our services are provided as much as needed, up to 12 hours per week. These appointment hours are set accommodating the client's schedule and are designed to not interfere with natural supports.

Behavioral Coaching: All stakeholders involved with the client are included in this program's ongoing coordination. Stakeholders are frequently asked for feedback on behaviors and changes in behaviors via a Functional Behavioral Assessment. This is done to increase the following: Consistency for the client; progression and development in life activities; and use of coping skills and communication.

Who services are for:

- Children, Adolescents and Adults in supportive settings
- Those that struggle with behaviors in social settings
- Children diagnosed with ODD, ADD, ADHD, and Autism

Crisis/ Hospitalization Follow- up Program: After a crisis hospitalization, these One-to-One support services are provided in the client's environment to help them with follow-up appointments, services and skills development. Our clients are guided toward the direct day-to-day application of skills in the areas that are causing them distress. This is done with the goal to reduce substance use, self-harming behaviors, crisis utilization and hospitalization.

Who services are for:

- Available for adolescents and adults
- People with frequent hospital/crisis utilization
- People with complicated home environments

- People that have issues applying coping skills in their environments

Mentoring: We provide guidance in the development of behavioral skills necessary to navigate the challenging situations one may face through independent skill building, connecting with community resources and ensuring community resource education.

We serve children (ages 3 to 18) via individual, family, and group interventions. Therapists specialize in forensically informed trauma-based treatment and coordinate with the law enforcement and DCS. Therapeutic Approaches include: TFCBT, Directive and Non-Directive Developmental Play Therapy, Sand Tray, EMDR, Accelerated Resolution Therapy (ART), Tension & Trauma Release Exercises (TRE), and Sensory Based Interventions.

All Encourage Empowerment clinicians have completed one of the following certification trainings via the AZ Trauma Institute:

- CCTP/ CCTSI (Certified Clinical Trauma Specialist; Individual) or
- CCTS-F (Certified Clinical Trauma Specialist; Family)

Additional clinician specialized certification trainings (limited to certain clinicians) include:

- Birth to Five: Early childhood complex interpersonal trauma initiates neurological differences in the brain, which often are demonstrated via noted social and emotional delays. As a result, bonding and attachment are often impacted. Therapeutic approaches within the birth to 5 group address healthy attachment and parenting support via play therapy, expressive arts, and sand tray focusing upon affect regulation and development of safety and trust.
- Trauma and Addiction Specialist: Clinicians have completed training in assessment and treatment of addiction as a reactive adaption to traumatic exposure. (AZ Trauma Institute).
- Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing (EMDR): EMDR therapy is an integrative psychotherapy approach that has been extensively researched and proven effective for the treatment of trauma. (EMDRIA).
- Tension & Trauma Release Exercises (TRE): A simple series of exercises that assist the body in releasing deep muscular patterns of stress, tension, and trauma. TRE safely activates a natural reflex mechanism of shaking or vibrating that releases muscular tension, calming the nervous system. When this process is activated in a safe and controlled environment, the body is encouraged to return back to a state of balance.(traumaprevention.com)
- Human Trafficking Certification: Clinicians are trained on traumatic elements unique to the children and adolescents who have been exploited for profit. Clinicians have knowledge regarding current research, theories, empirically supported treatment models and techniques, assessments, and treatment structures that minimize resistance & maximizes effectiveness. Clinicians know about unique challenges related to this population and develop strategies to reduce treatment failure. (AZ Trauma Institute).
- Parent Education and Kid Support (PEAKS): PEAKS is a six-week closed format psychoeducational support group for non-offending caregivers of children and adolescents that have incurred trauma or traumatic grief. PEAKS addresses the impact of trauma upon the following systems: behavioral, psychological, emotional, neurological, developmental, and social while providing discipline support that promotes victim empowerment and regulation while supporting behavior compliance.(Author: Tammy Ohm MS NCC LPC).
- Accelerated Resolution Therapy (ART): ART combines Gestalt, Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT), Exposure Therapy (in-vivo), relaxation techniques, and Brief Psycho-dynamic therapy and combines them with eye movements similar to those we use during the (REM) Rapid Eye Movement phase of sleep. ART utilizes a re-scripting process called Voluntary Image Replacement (VIR) to assist clients in replacing negative images with positive ones. (acceleratedresolutiontherapy.com)

Human Resource Training (HRT)

<http://hrtaz.com/>

FAST (Foster and Adoptive Support Team) Program: The FAST program was designed by HRT to support families and children that are involved in foster care, adoptive care or kinship care to prevent disruptions or the need for higher levels of care. These children must be enrolled in AHCCCS and have been involved in the DCS/child welfare system. This program is designed to work directly with the family and the child(ren) in the placement home to provide support over an intensive period of 90 days (on average). This program is intended to increase stability in the home by assisting the primary caregivers in adapting to meet the needs of the children placed and working with the children to reduce their behavioral concerns. FAST uses a trauma-informed perspective, as the belief is that every child that has been removed from a caregiver has potential trauma responses. The FAST program requires that a family be willing to participate in family support and skills training as the family systems perspective prescribes working with the whole family unit and not just the individual child. Short-term respite or personal care can also be provided. A team is comprised of a Clinical Supervisor, a Family Support Specialist and a Family Resource Aide. Each has their own role to assist the child and the family in the following areas:

- Behavioral health system navigation/collaboration, DCS system navigation/collaboration
- Support and psychoeducation as to behavioral challenges that the child may be facing
- Full functional family assessment
- Collaboration with CFT process, Medical, Behavioral Health, and Psychiatric Services
- Identification and implementation of behavioral modification strategies in the home (Skills training/Development, Home care training/Family support, Personal care)
- Ongoing support and community resource suggestions
- Short-term respite (2-4 hours at a time)

Jewish Family & Children's Service (JFCS) Central Arizona

Adolescent Community Reinforcement Approach (A-CRA): A-CRA is a behavioral intervention that seeks to replace environmental factors contributing to substance abuse with pro-social activities and behaviors supportive of recovery. This approach includes sessions with the adolescent alone, with the caregiver alone, and with adolescents and caregivers together. The program can work with adolescents who do not have involved caregivers. A-CRA is not strictly an abstinence model; treatment goals related to reduction in substance use are mutually determined with the adolescent. National studies indicate effectiveness with Native American and Latino youth. Average number of sessions per adolescent is 18 to 22. Priority Populations: Services through this project are prioritized to the following populations of youth with substance abuse issues: pregnant or parenting adolescent females; adolescents involved in the juvenile justice system; Latino and Native American youth and children enrolled with DCS. All services are for Title XIX/XXI and Non-Title XIX/XXI eligible adolescents.

JFCS' Youth in Transition Program: Modeled after the Transition to Independence Process (TIP), an innovative, evidence-based model created by Dr. Rusty Clark to support youth and young adults with emotional and behavioral difficulties. JFCS is one of the first organizations in Maricopa County to successfully implement the TIP model which focuses on transitioning youth in five areas: education, stable living situation, employment and career, community life functioning, and personal effectiveness and well-being. Population Served: Children in DCS 15- 17, Children 16-17, GMH/SA 18-21, and SMI 18-21.

Jewish Family & Children's Service Child Crisis Hospital Team (CCHT): Our goal is to support children and their families that are in crisis with short-term home-based clinical interventions that promote safety for the child to remain in the community while ensuring connections to necessary ongoing behavioral health services are in place. This program provides home/community-based support services that consist of crisis de-escalation, risk assessments, safety planning, behavioral support, case coordination and care, positive parenting strategies, short-term individual and family counseling along with resources and referrals for ongoing needs. Services are designed for children who have been discharged from a hospital for behavioral health needs, been turned away from a hospital due to not meeting criteria or can be utilized as a prevention service to avoid further crisis escalations and disruptions. Eligible children are Title 19 enrolled. Emergent intakes are also available to bring children into the behavioral health system and get connected with a clinical home for longer-term needs and behavioral health services. Services are available 7 days a week.

Center of Excellence Family Center: The Michael R. Zent Integrated Health Center and Maryvale Maricopa Integrated Health Services Center of Excellence Family Center: The Center provides outpatient primary care and behavioral health services to children and families in need of intervention to help in the prevention and/or continuation of child abuse and/or neglect. The Center provides information to children and families in the Maryvale community regarding child development, parenting and family support as well as case management, coordination of care, psychiatric, and therapeutic intervention utilizing a trauma informed approach.

Triple P (Positive Parenting Program): JFCS utilizes Triple P --- Positive Parenting Program --- a parenting and family support system designed to prevent as well as treat behavioral and emotional problems in children and teenagers. It aims to prevent problems in the family, school and community before they arise and to create family environments that encourage children to reach their full potential. Triple P draws on social learning, cognitive behavioral and developmental theory as well as research into risk factors associated with the development of social and behavioral problems in children. Parents are equipped with skills and the confidence they need to be self-sufficient and to be able to manage family issues without ongoing support. Parenting strategies focus on developing positive relationships, attitudes and conduct for their children and themselves.

Child sexual abuse and other types of trauma happen to children in every kind of family, neighborhood, and community. Fortunately, with the right kind of help, children can recover completely and live normal, happy lives. PSP therapists use a variety of age appropriate treatment modalities to help each child:

- Establish an atmosphere of safety.

- Encourage expression of feelings.
- Facilitate a sense of contact with and control over their environment.
- Encourage the development of trusting attachments.

Because traumatic events don't just affect the victim, Project Safe Place includes family therapy to help family members improve communication and problem-solving skills in ways that help the victims in recovery.

 JFCS of Southern Arizona has a grant-funded program called Project Safe Place (PSP) that provides free counseling to children who have experienced trauma due to being victims of a crime. Those who qualify for PSP receive counseling free of charge. There is also a self-pay option and a sliding fee scale for children who are not eligible for AHCCCS or the grant-funded program.*

Using Native American Healing combined with Evidenced Based Practices, the program provides a healing, supportive, and empowering experience for young adults that help them to discover a meaning and purpose to life. The program model at NAC is integrated within Native American Healing practices such as the Talking Circle, Medicine Wheel, Healthy Relationships, and Red Road (Wellbriety) to provide an educative and healing environment for all members. Intensive Substance Abuse Program: Native American Connections has a 45-year history of working with clients struggling with substance use disorders. For this reason, Native American Connections (NAC) is now offering an intensive, holistic, strengths-based, trauma informed, outcome focused, and systems-oriented approach to assist these youth ages 13-

19 and their families. We call this program, Standing Stronger, as youth and families are stronger when they work together towards recovery. Standing Stronger's goal is to help the youth and family live free from addiction. This intensive program is generally 10 weeks based on clinical need. All NAC Clinical Staff are trained in Trauma Informed Care, Substance Use disorder treatment, and Family Systems theory and practice. Standing Stronger offers the following services weekly as needed: 1 hour of individual counseling for youth, one hour of family counseling and two psychoeducational/counseling groups per week. (each group is 2 ½ hours- groups will be held on Tuesday and Wednesdays from 5:00-7:30). Group sessions are based on evidenced based practices including ACRA, Living in Balance, the Matrix model, and Wellbriety. Twice monthly, youth will be offered the opportunity to participate in a Talking Circle, a Native American healing ceremony that addresses the "spirit" aspect of mind-body-spirit treatment. Touchstone Health Services (THS)

<http://www.touchstonehs.org/>

Multisystemic Therapy (MST): is an intensive evidenced-based family and community-based therapy program that has been effective in treating youth with serious acting out behaviors. The major goal of MST is to empower parents with the skills and resources needed to independently address the difficulties that arise in raising teenagers. The MST approach views individuals as part of a complex network that includes individual, family, and community factors. MST strives to promote behavior change in the youth's natural environment, using the strengths of each system (e.g., family, peers, school, neighborhood, natural support network) to facilitate change. Within a context of support and skill building, the therapist places developmentally appropriate demands on the adolescent and family for responsible behavior. Intervention strategies are integrated into a social ecological context and include strategic and structural family therapy, behavioral parent training, and cognitive behavior therapy. The program is designed to work with youth who are in a home setting with at least one identified caregiver. Therapists typically meet with families three times a week and are on-call 24/7. Multisystemic Therapy for Problem Sexual Behaviors (MST-PSB): is a clinical adaptation of the Multisystemic Therapy Program (MST) that has been specifically designed and developed to treat youth (and their families) for problematic sexual behavior. Building upon the research and dissemination foundation of standard MST, the MST-PSB model represents a state-of-the-art, evidence-based practice uniquely developed to address the multiple determinants underlying problematic juvenile sexual behavior. MST-PSB relies heavily on family therapy as a mechanism of change for the youth and family, and draws on models of parent training, structural and strategic family therapy, cognitive-behavioral therapy, and social skills building. Utilization of family-based clarification work is utilized to encourage sustainable change of both the youth and the family environment. Ensuring client, victim and community safety is a paramount mission of the model. Extensive assessment and planning underlie the individualized safety plan of every youth and family. The program is designed to work with youth who are in a home setting with at least one identified caregiver. MST-PSB Therapists meet with youth and families in the community, in homes, schools and neighborhoods to encourage success in the youth's natural environment for long-term sustainability. Therapists typically meet with families three to four times each week and are on-call 24/7. Treatment average is 5 to 7 months. Serves youth 10-17. MST-PSB is a Blueprints Model Program.

Functional Family Therapy (FFT): is an intensive home-based family therapy program for youth who demonstrate maladaptive and acting out behaviors. FFT consists of five major components: engagement, motivation, relational assessment, behavior change and generalization. At its core, FFT focuses on assessment and intervention to address risk and protective factors within and outside of the family that impact the adolescent and his or her adaptive development. A strong relational, cognitive and behavioral component is integrated into systematic skill training in several areas such as family communication, parenting, and conflict management skills. The program is designed to work with youth who are in a home setting with at least one identified caregiver. When appropriate, FFT takes into consideration the sensory sensitivity commonly observed among youths affected by Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD). Service delivery takes place primarily in the home or community. Treatment average is 3 to 5 months (1x per week). Serves youth ages 11-17. FFT is a Blueprints Model Program. Autism Center of Excellence: Our Autism Center of Excellence (ACE) houses our specialized BA Programs. Our comprehensive and focused BA teams are highly trained in Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD). These teams work with families and all care providers to ensure members receive the best care. We are recognized by MMIC as a Center of Excellence and a Gold Card Standard Provider for individuals with ASD.

- Behavior Analytic Services: Behavior Analytic Services provides evidence-based assessment and treatment, grounded in the science of Behavior Analysis (BA). Specifically, our expertise focuses on individuals with developmental disabilities, including Autism Spectrum Disorders who display skill deficits and/or problem behaviors.
- Language & Learning Center: The Language & Learning Center (LLC) provides comprehensive Behavior Analysis (BA) therapy to members from 0-18 years old. BA therapy is a child-centered, strengths-based treatment with the goal to help members achieve their highest potential. Through a comprehensive assessment coordinated by a Board-Certified Behavior Analyst® (BCBA®), a member's strengths and deficits are identified across developmental domains. Skills targeted include communication, pre-academic (learning to learn) skills, social skills, self-care skills, and play skills. Challenging behavior may also be addressed as part of comprehensive BA therapy. A plan for addressing the member's needs as outlined in the assessment is created and implemented in center, home, or community settings. Therapy includes parents/caregivers, and, when appropriate, siblings to produce the best outcomes.

- Intensive Parent Education (IPE): Offered through the Autism Center of Excellence that provides caregivers instruction on a series of topics that include but are not limited to "What is Autism," Introduction to Behavior Analysis, determining the function of behavior, increasing communication skills, and many more. IPE is a telehealth service that occurs 7-hours per week for 9-10 weeks. The service includes a Unit Review 2 hours per week, two 2-hour observations throughout the week to allow caregivers an opportunity to practice the skills taught and recommendations provided with their member, while receiving in-vivo feedback from a provider, and phone call check-ins are scheduled twice throughout the week between observations to allow families to troubleshoot with the provider through anything that has come up from the last contact, or to simply check-in.
- Complex Behavior: The Complex Behavior Program provides support to families and members who engage in challenging behavior that poses an imminent risk of serious harm to themselves and others. Our clinician's use the science of Behavior Analysis to inform their assessment and treatment practices. When an individual is referred to the Complex Behavior Program, a team lead by a Board-Certified Behavior Analyst (BCBA®) conducts a functional behavior assessment (FBA) to determine why the behavior occurs. A treatment plan is created to decrease the problem behavior and teach an appropriate replacement skill. The team then implements the plan and trains parents and other caregivers to use the plan. The member is discharged once the behavior is stabilized.
- Research Units in Behavioral Intervention (RUBI) Parent Training Program: (Bearss, et al. 2007) is a 7-week program that teaches caregivers how to identify target problem behaviors and utilize the principles and techniques of Behavior Analysis to replace problem behaviors with appropriate behaviors. Session visits occur 4 times per week; with the caregivers only for 90-120 minutes (core sessions), and 3 follow-up coaching sessions with the family (caregivers with member) for 180-240 minutes.
- Intensive Outpatient Program (IOP): is a highly structured therapeutic treatment program designed to help children and adolescents who struggle with emotional and behavioral management in developing social, communication and coping skills that will help them improve their functioning at home, school and in the community. We utilize therapy groups and therapeutic activities along with goal setting, development of social skills & positive peer interaction, behavioral management, skills assessment, recreational activities, and development of decision-making skills. Our Intensive Outpatient Program utilizes the Dialectical Behavioral Treatment (DBT) Steps A-curriculum. The curriculum was adapted from the skills training program in Dialectical Behavior Therapy which is an evidenced based treatment with empirically supported strategies. The skills from each of the DBT skills modules include areas of focus around: Orientation & Goal Setting, Dialectical Thinking, Core Mindfulness Skills, Distress Tolerance Skills, Emotion Regulation Skills, Interpersonal Effectiveness. IOP strives towards the following goals: prevent crisis situations from occurring in the home environment, mainstreaming of the client in the least restrictive environment, prevention of psychiatric hospitalization and/or risk of out-of-home placement, increase emotional regulation skills to develop self-control, increase positive coping skills and a healthy self-concept, promote social competency and social skills, and preserve the family unit by increasing family functioning and parental empowerment to manage problem behaviors in order to increase sustainability for the youth and parent/caregiver. The program works closely with the parents to help develop consistency between environments and includes a family education/support group. The treatment team works with each Child and Family Team (CFT) to help identify goals and treatment strategies. IOP hours are as follows:

- Normal Operating Hours are 3:30-6:30pm – Monday through Thursday
- Winter break – 10am-2pm – Monday through Thursday
- Summer break – 10am – 2pm Monday through Thursday

This group explores how attachment develops, what needs children have in supporting them in attachment relationship and how our own history affects our ability to respond to these needs. This group is best for kids 10 and under although exceptions can be made on a case by case basis. There is a child and parent component for this group, that they participate in separately.
